'The Place in the Valley'

acrylic on canvas

40x30 $2400.00

My work investigates rhythm, flow, and energy. These elements are revealed through the use of color and brushstroke as a means to emphasize the aliveness that I believe exists most vividly early in the conception of a painting. My goal is to harness the powerfully expressive qualities at the early stages of my work and to maintain and grow those qualities through all stages of the painting's development. I draw continuing inspiration from horses and from the shapes and geometry of the West where I live and work.
